

Relocation: Yes, Demolition: No

Demolition of perfectly good houses is a practice that can no longer be tolerated. Annually structures are being demolished by local, state and national governmental agencies that could be saved for affordable housing, conservation of natural resources, reducing landfill debris, conservation of energy and maintaining these structures on the tax rolls. It is necessary for structural movers to take this message to the officials in your local area to save these structures, thus meaning more business for your own companies.

IASM has adopted a national program to do just that: Relocation vs Demolition. The association has produced a four-page 8 x 11 inch brochure supporting the view described above. As an "ice breaker" for movers to contact local representatives, a set of four mugs are available for movers to present to representatives when discussing this issue. A boilerplate sample legislative document is also available to assist the representative in introducing such legislation in individual state legislatures.

20 copies of the explanation brochure comes with the set of mugs. Order sets today to use in your area.

Box of four mugs: $20.00.

Postage in the US: $11.45.

International postage: $15.00.

Order a case of four sets of four mugs for $90.00 and IASM will pay for shipping.
