In 2006 a developer of high rise condominiums in Orange Beach, AL purchased an adjoining five acres tract of land known as Caribe Village in order to erect another high rise building.

Ducky Johnson House Movers, Inc., of Grand Ridge, FL was contracted to move the 12 two and three story homes that comprised the "village." On one side of the houses across a highway was the Gulf of Mexico. About 50 yards on the other side of the houses was the Intercoastal Waterway. Because of the heights of the buildings and close proximity to navigable water the logical mode for relocating the structures was by water. Ducky Johnson House Movers, Inc. project manager for Northwest Florida, Alabama and Mississippi and Brian Johnson, Crew Forman began moving the houses in 2006. Nine houses have been moved. The remaining three are scheduled to be moved in 2010. The ninth house shown on the cover going under the Perdido Key Bridge on Florida Highway 292 in Escambia County 15 miles southwest of Pensacola, was relocated 20 miles to Grand Lagoon on the Gulf of Mexico in Pensacola, FL for Deena Boatright of Atlanta, GA.
