Celebrating 25 Years
1982-2007

A Quarter Century
of Progress

February 14-18, 2007

The Hotel Arizona • 181 West Broadway • Tucson, Arizona

Tucson is the best place to experience south-of-the-border culture, Old West history and outdoor adventure. Tucson's melting pot heritage — a mix of Native American, Spanish, Mexican and Western pioneer settlers — is celebrated through music, festivals and events. Museums of regional art, aerospace and technology, natural history and Western heritage thrive in Tucson. Spanish missions, Old Western towns, regional gardens and zoos, research and education centers are just some of the area's accessible attractions, many of which are known worldwide.

You'll want to experience some of these sights and sounds before, during and after the conference. Planners have arranged for open time Wednesday and Friday evenings. In February the average daytime temperature is 69 degrees (F) and 40 degrees (F) in the evening so no heavy apparel is required. The average rainfall in February is less than one inch with a low humidity of 27%.

The Hotel Arizona is conveniently located downtown within easy walking distance of shops, restaurants and interesting attractions.
