You read right. If you recruit at least three new members between now and 31 December 2005, your name will be included in a drawing to win a FREE registration to the Annual Conference to be held Wednesday 14 February until Sunday 18 February 2007 at the Radisson Hotel City Center, Tucson, Arizona.

As a winner you will enjoy networking with other members at social functions, educational sessions, general business sessions, a products & services exposition, a yard visit to Tinaja Hills Proving Grounds, plus an annual recognition dinner and awards ceremony.

You will see the latest in products and services offered to the industry and association members by vendors at the Products & Services Exposition on Thursday and Saturday. A festive atmosphere, including lunch, will prevail during both sessions.

The Ladies Group program, opportunities to visit a popular restaurant and shopping area, all planned for your enjoyment as you also learn the latest techniques of the trade and meet new members and friends. Come early or stay longer to visit the many sights and venues of this beautiful and interesting city. There are 101 things to do: The Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Saguaro National Park, Tucson Botanical Gardens, Old Tucson Studios, Titan Missile Silo Museum, Pima Air & Space Museum, Biosphere, Kitt Peak National Observatory, Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument, Tombstone, and Nogales, Mexico. There are dozens of restaurants within walking distance of the hotel plus the hotel where famous gangster John Dillinger was captured.

Now is the time to act on those good intentions. You know several companies or competitors that should be a member of the association. Make copies of the membership application on the reverse side of this page to enlist at least three new members.

The deadline is the last day of this year, 31 December 2005.

Get started today. It's money in your pocket.
