February 2008 in Minneapolis, Minnesota

You read right. If you recruit at least three new members between now and 31 December 2007, your name will be included in a drawing to win a FREE registration to the Annual Conference to be held Wednesday 20 February until Sunday 24 February 2008 at the Sheraton Bloomington Hotel, Minneapolis South.

As a winner you will enjoy networking with other members at social functions, educational sessions, general business sessions, a products & services exposition, a yard visit to an area mover, plus an annual recognition dinner and awards ceremony.

You will see the latest in products and services offered to the industry and association members by vendors at the Products & Services Exposition on Thursday and Saturday. A festive atmosphere, including lunch, will prevail during both sessions.

The Ladies Group program, opportunities to visit a popular restaurant and shopping area, all planned for your enjoyment as you also learn the latest techniques of the trade and meet new members and friends. Come early or stay longer to visit the many sights and venues of this beautiful and interesting city. There is so much to do in the Minneapolis area that it can be hard to decide where to start! Top attractions in the area include: Mall of America, the Science Museum of Minnesota, the Walker Art Center, the Mill City Museum, guided tours at Faribault Woolen Mills, the Minnesota Transportation Museum, the Pavek Museum of Broadcasting, the Museum of Russian Art, and the Riverfront District.

Now is the time to act on those good intentions. You know several companies or competitors that should be a member of the association. Make copies of the membership application on the reverse side of this page to enlist at least three new members.

The deadline is the last day of this year, 31 December 2007.

Get started today. It's money in your pocket.
