INTRODUCING "RJC™"

("Remote Jacking Control")

This yellow case is the future of the unified jacking system.

- ◆ With RJC™ one person can control every operation of the unified machine via a rugged touch screen up to 200' from the machine
- ◆ Unify a jack while being right next to it
- ◆ The pressure and weight on each jack, and the overall weight, are displayed on the screen
- ◆ Automatic operation eliminates the need to open and close valves manually
- ◆ Pushbutton controls allow you to add or subtract pressure from a jack or jacks
- ◆ Easy to follow operating instructions appear on the screen for each operation
- ◆ Know the location and travel of the main unit
- ◆ Machine operation stops and the operator is alerted if the load on a jack suddenly changes
- ◆ If you use more than one jack per outlet you can reset the main unit, to finish extending the jacks, with the push of one button. No more missed valves, no more marking gauge faces with grease pencil, no more gauge pointers to let dirt and water into the gauges. Totally automatic or manual operation.
- ◆ Lightweight, watertight, and indestructible case protects and shades the bright 8", 10", 15" or larger touch screen
- ◆ Case can be padlocked closed to prevent vandalism and theft
- ◆ "RJC" can be retrofitted to older machines during remanufacturing
- ◆ Self-diagnostic program tests for problems before first use each day, tells you what is wrong and how to fix it.
- ◆ Multiple machines can be operated from one control screen

The components and operating system have been proven in fifteen years of service on our line of unified jacking machines for the automotive industry (pictured on the right), and now we bring this technology to the structural moving industry.
